DR. LEAR'S CHARGE.

Says Discrimination Against the Graduates of Church Schools. The Rev. Dr. W. W. Lear, formerly pastor of Centenary, of this city, now presiding elder of Charlottesville District, writing to the Christian Advocate, lodges a rather serious charge against the public school authorities of the State. Referring to the selection of public school (Rachers, he says).

"The discrimination against our church schools which you spoke of is atrikingly illustrated when it comes to the selection of teachers. Not only is any graduate from the normal school given a certificate without the examination required of others far better qualified, but I am told that some of those who have spent only one year at the normal are given preference over graduates of colleges, when the normal pupils would not be able to stand even the entrace examination. I hope that the various examination. I hope that the various representatives of denominational schools will join together in a determination to resist this effort to 'push them to the wall.'

Why should not 100,000 selected Chinese be brought to the South for a term not twenty years? They are heathens. Give them this chance to learn the true religion. Away from their pagan temples, associates, customs, our religion would have better access to them. The ercirciling a pagan by a Christian civilization is a great lever to lift him. He returns to China, perhaps, a Christian. returns to China, perhaps, a Christian. A Chinaman a miser. He goes home "a capitalist." He will bring the influence of his financial position to bear on his reighbors in Pekin and elsewhere.

The addition of such an amount of steady, patient and intelligent labor would give the South a bulge forward. It would be a blessing to the victims of hunger in the East, a double mercy to them. And to the South, it would give, if not a solution to the "problem" of lack laziness, at least a relief to our people. Johnny Wise is right. The American white man of 1904 is tired of the negro.

AT THE THEATRES.

That dainty and picturesque comedy, "The Professor's Love Story," with Mr. Harry Beresford as Professor Goodwillie, was seen at the Academy last night for the second time this season. The production was exactly the same as seen here. some weeks ago. The comedy is one o the prettlest that has been seen here this season, and while the audience last night was not a large one, it enjoyed the performance immensely.

The Chaperons To-day.

The Virginian-Pilot of yesterday had the following to say in regard to the production of the Chaperon, which is to be seen at the Academy, this after-

"The Ameer" to Leave.

The last performance of the "Ameer" will be given to-day and to-night at the Bijou by the Bijou Opera Company, After an absence of a week the company will return and produce another popular success, "The Idol's Eye." one of the operas purchased by the Wells-Dunne-Harlan Company from Kirke LaShelle.
"The Ameer" is bright, musical and has most entertaining lines of any of the comio operas which have been seen in the South.

Thrilling Melodrama.

"Her First False Step," the melodrama which opens the week at the Bijour Theatre Monday night, will probably prove one of the record breakers for that prove. Seats are going with a rush, it is a LeBrandt play, which has proven as popular here this season. There are clous stunts, a country dance and a German band in the play. The usual matiness will be given.

"Her Own Way."

Maxine Elliott, in "Her Own Way,"
will be at the Academy of Music for one performance only. Friday night, April 1st, Star and play have just scored the most probatned hit of the season in New York. Miss Elliott, known as the most beautiful woman on the American stage, has fairly amazed her admirers by the depth and feeling of her work in the strong emotional scenes. This comedy, by Clyde Fitch, has been pronounced the best play ever written by that prollific writer.

Successful Farmers' Institutes. Commissioner Koiner returned yester-day from a series of institutes which he held in Campbell and Amherst counties held in Campbell and Amnerst counties. These meetings were most successful, and were largely attended. At the institutes in both counties, resolutions were adopted endorsing the work of Commissioner Koiner, and assuring him of the appreciation with which his efforts had been received, by the farmers of that section.

sis,600 annually to each station. The total additional appropriation required for the first year is estimated by the committee at $24,000.

The report points out the remarkable work that has been done by State experiment, stations in developing the agricultural interests of the United States, declaring that no oher single agency has contributed so much to the agricultural education of this country or has eliminated more errors from farm practices or added more to the profits and comfort of farm life.

REACH MANY THOUSANDS.

"In 1903," says the report, "there were $20,000 names upon the mailing lists of the agricultural experiment stations of the United States. These mailing lists are made up upon the requests of men who want the literature of the stations, and indicate conclusively the estimation in which their work is held by the farmers of the country.

"While the work of each station is particularly valuable to the State in which it is located, there is not one of these stations that does not develop some knowledge valuable to every man who tills the soil in the country.

"The experiment stations are nearly all departments of agriculture colleges. The college deals with ideas; the stations prove good theories and disprove poro once."

The report states that the total income of the stations for 1900 was contributed by the Federal government.

The sadditional appropriation provided for, it concludes, can very profitably be expended by every State, but more particularly by the State government and $41,22,-41 by the State government.

The hill provides specifically that the additional amount appropriation provided for, it concludes, can very profitably be expended in the work of experimentation only; that no part shall be applied to the rental or purchase of land, the construction of buildings or the payment of salaries.
